■ Remembrance Day

Elk Point will remember war veterans and victims

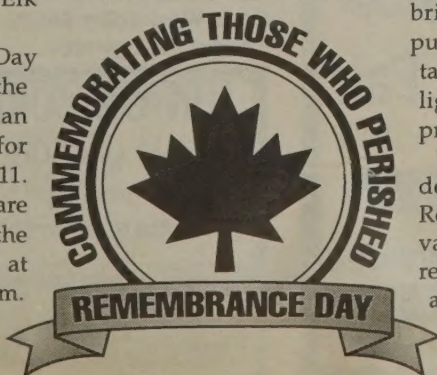

Tomorrow and Thursday will be days of remembrance for all ages in Elk Point.

The Remembrance Day observances hosted by the Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion are scheduled for Thursday, November 11. Groups and individuals are invited to form up in the Seniors Recreation Centre at 10:40 a.m. for the 10:45 a.m. parade to the cenotaph. A brief ceremony at the cenotaph will be followed by the laying of wreaths by governments, dignitaries, organizations and businesses. The group will then return to the Seniors Centre for a program involving area school children and dignitaries, followed by a brief worship service. The public is cordially invited to take part and to stay for a light lunch following the program.

Tomorrow, Elk Point students will take part in Remembrance Day observances in their schools, with representatives of the Legion as honored guests for the occasion

Stems N Stuff: Business of the Year

Floral shop worthy of bouquets from customers

One of Elk Point's newest businesses, Stems N Stuff, has claimed the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Business of the Year honors. Chamber president Victor Stepa presented the plaque to business owner Manon Joice at last Wednesday's meeting, and congratulated her on the success of her business, which opened last spring.

Eight nominations were received for the shop, which features not only fresh, dried and silk flower displays, but also an intriguing collection of lingerie and wearing apparel. Ms. Joice's promotional ability, involvement in several community organizations and personalized service were among the reasons listed, and her business was called "the most elegant store in Elk Point..." with "great ambience" which "adds a touch of class to our town."

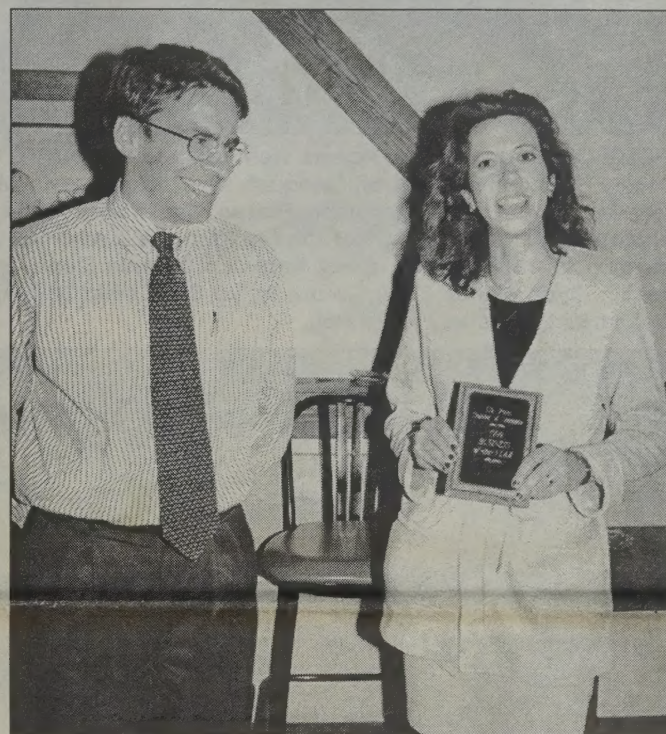

Business of the Year Award organizers were pleased to see numbers of nominations much improved from previous years, with a total of 25 nominations received, naming a total of 11 businesses. Home Town Grocers, Golden Loaf Bakery, Kuhn's Collectibles, Cal's Home Hardware, Elk Point Co-op, Tags Food and Gas, Footprints, Woody's Trophy and Gift, Kelly's Closet and Magic Pizza all received recognition for outstanding effort from happy and satisfied customers.

Downtown Beautification

Ms Joice demonstrated some of her community involvement later in the meeting by reporting on her recent survey regarding downtown beautification priorities. A whopping 92% of respondents to the survey felt the Tourist Information Centre should be relocated to the south end of Main Street in a park area. Three quarters of respondents felt placement of park benches around the downtown was a great idea, while a quarter of those replying voted for painting of store fronts, building an archway and installing loudspeakers in the downtown area. Suggestions were for flower beds, flagpoles and trees around the relocated TIC, a general cleanup of Main Street and removal of old buildings that detract from the look of Main Street.

Chamber president Victor Stepa congratulated the Town on their successful effort to retain the Northern Lights Library System headquarters in Elk Point. Town manager

BUSINESS OF THE YEAR WINNER Manon Joice of Stems N Stuff is congratulated by Elk Point Chamber of Commerce president Victor Stepa. Stems N Stuff received eight nominations.

Myron Goyan commended his staff on their hard work in preparing the presentation which was given to the Northern Lights Board prior to their decision.

Extravaganza

It's just one month until Christmas Extravaganza, and the first planning meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, November 10 at 8:00 a.m. at the Empress. Representatives of all businesses are welcome to come and give their input on ways to make this year's pre-Christmas shopping event truly an Extravaganza to remember.

Seniors injured in single vehicle accident

Two elderly Elk Point residents have been hospitalized as the result of a single vehicle accident Thursday evening.

Shortly before 6 p.m. on November 4, the couple was driving eastbound on 50th Avenue when they approached a Town public works site surrounded by barricades. A truck driver who was leaving the site signalled that the approaching vehicle should back up, but instead, the 89-year-old driver is said to have waved to him and proceeded around the barricades and through the opening where the truck had come out, the car then nosedived into an excavation.

Both the driver and his 86-year-old wife were injured in the crash and were taken to Elk Point Health Centre, with the wife later transported to Edmonton for treatment. Their injuries were not felt to be life threatening.

The accident is still under investigation by Elk Point RCMP.

Thursday, November 11 is Remembrance Day

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

The 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month - this is Remembrance Day in Canada. We gather at cenotaphs and memorials in over 2000 cities, towns and villages throughout this wonderful country. We stand with our heads bowed and we wear a poppy. We take part in a simple, but very moving ceremony to honor the many Canadians who were killed in World War I, World War II, Korea and on United Nations Peacekeeping Operations throughout the world. During the two minutes of silence we think of these brave people who were in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Merchant Navy.

Each person present at the ceremony remembers in their own way. Perhaps veterans think of friends and comrades as they were a few moments before their death. Wives remember tearful goodbyes to husbands as they went to war never to return. Fathers and mothers think of young men and women who left home and never returned. And there are husbands who said farewell to wives that went off to war and did not come home.

But what should the Remembrance Day ceremony mean to us - today? Perhaps the most important thing to remember is that many of those who were killed were not much older than our high school students when they went to war. Some left their high school and university classes to fly airplanes while still in their teens. Others stormed the beaches of Sicily, Italy and France and still others fought the Battle of the North Atlantic in tiny corvettes. For many, these actions occurred before their 21st birthday and some did not even live to see this birthday.

Remembrance Day is the time we honor those who paid the supreme sacrifice to ensure that this great country of our remained free and democratic. And we remember the person as referred to in the following poem.

CANADA REMEMBERS
LE CANADA SE SOUVIENT

An Honored Son

He came, this young Canadian,
From out the Golden West,
Full of courage and of faith,
Or ardor, hope and zest.
A willing volunteer, he came -
And offered us his life -
His youth, his strength, his heart and soul
To fling into the strife.
The final sacrifice he made,
He lies in foreign earth -
Far from home, an exile
From the country of his birth.
And yet, amongst his kin he sleeps
In friendly company -
No stranger, but an Honored Son
Of one great family.

Diabetes Month - help someone you know

By Linda Fox, RD
Elk Point Health Centre

One and a half million Canadians have been diagnosed with diabetes. Another 750,000 are thought to have diabetes, but don't know it. These numbers are expected to increase as the population ages.

November is Diabetes Month. World Diabetes Day is celebrated on the 14th of November, Dr. Frederick Banting's birthday. (Banting co-discovered insulin in 1921.)

The Canadian Diabetes Association's (CDA) public awareness theme for this year, "help someone you know," points to the fact that chances are, someone in everyone's circle of family or friends has diabetes. By learning more about diabetes, you may be able to recognize the symptoms and determine if you, or someone you know, might be at risk for diabetes. Find out what you can do to prevent or at least delay the onset of this disease.

Diabetes is a lifelong disease in which your body cannot properly use and store the fuel (sugar) you take in from the foods you eat. Insulin is needed to help the body use sugar for energy. When insulin is not available, the sugar from the food stays in the bloodstream causing blood sugars to rise.

Type 1 diabetes occurs when the pancreas no longer produces insulin. Among Canadians with diabetes, about 10% have Type 1. All people with Type 1 require daily insulin injections.

Type 2 diabetes occurs when the body is not producing insulin effectively or the body can't use the insulin it produces. People with Type 2 diabetes may be able to manage their blood glucose through diet, exercise and possibly oral medications. Some people, however, need insulin by injection. About 90% of people with diabetes have Type 2.

You are at increased risk for Type 2 diabetes if you are over 45, overweight and have a sedentary lifestyle. If you're at risk for Type 2, do what you can to maintain a healthy body weight and lifestyle. This is best achieved by combining healthy eating, based on Canada's Food Guide, and regular physical activity, based on Health Canada's Physical Activity Guide with regular visits to your doctor.

Gestational diabetes is a temporary condition that occurs during pregnancy. It affects one of every 20 pregnant women. Forty percent of those will develop Type 2 diabetes later in life.

Diabetes is serious business. If left untreated or improperly managed, the high blood sugar levels can slowly damage the blood vessels in the body, resulting in a variety of complications, such as heart disease, blindness, kidney disease, amputations and impotence.

It is estimated that one in every seven of our health care dollars is spent on the direct and indirect cost of treating people with diabetes.

With careful management, these complications can be delayed and even prevented. The first step in preventing the onset of these complications is recognizing the symptoms that may indicate you have diabetes.

Some of the symptoms of diabetes include:

- Frequent urination
- Unusual thirst
- Changes in appetite
- Unexplained weight loss

- Extreme fatigue
- Irritability
- Blurry vision
- Tingling in hands and feet

Not everyone will have the same symptoms. In Type 1 diabetes, the symptoms progress quickly and are dramatic. For example, a child may lose weight quickly, be extremely thirsty and visit the bathroom often.

In Type 2 diabetes, since symptoms are slower to progress, it is possible to have no apparent symptoms and to be diagnosed at a non-related medical examination. For example, a 55 year old, sedentary, overweight person going for a medical exam for his drivers licence, finds out his blood sugar is too high.

If you have any of these symptoms, make an appointment to see your doctor.

For more information, "to help someone you know," contact the Registered Dietician in your area. Information is also available from CDA's web page at www.diabetes.ca or e-mail at info@diabetes.ca.

Lest we forget

The following is a Remembrance Day message to constituents from Leon Benoit, MP for Lakeland.

"As you pay tribute here in Lakeland to Canada's war veterans, I will be representing you and Canada at a gathering of NATO Parliamentarians in Amsterdam. On November 11 I will have the special and unique opportunity to pay my respects at a Commonwealth War Cemetery in the Netherlands, where many of our war dead lay buried.

Currently, our service personnel are being required more and more often to intervene in conflicts around the world. We have only to look at theatres like Kosovo, East Timor and Rwanda, to realize how fortunate we are to live in a country that holds peace so dear. And it is dear. It was purchased in blood.

It is up to us, you and I, to remember every day that we enjoy the right to live and work in a peaceful, democratic society because those men and women were willing to give up their lives, and their futures, to ensure a war never came to Canadian soil.

The privilege I enjoy, to work on your behalf as an elected Member of Parliament, was paid for with their blood. I owe the joy of raising my children while knowing that they have the right to choose any path in life that they wish, to the thousands of Canadians who lost their lives fighting tyranny.

I want to express my heartfelt gratitude to the veterans of Lakeland, and to those men and women whom Canadians never got the chance to thank. Quite simply, we owe you everything. Thank you."

Junior Essay

Remembrance

By Darby Brooker

First at Zone level

The soldiers that fought in the wars gave us the freedoms we enjoy today. On Remembrance Day I wear a poppy to remember the soldiers that are now dead.

Soldiers made a commitment to the dignity of man and freedom of choice. For them it was a march to victory. They had to leave their families to go and fight for their country. World War I began in 1914 and ended in 1918. It lasted for four years. World War II lasted two years longer. War veterans suffered horrors of combat and horror at home. They were hoping a telegram wouldn't arrive at the gate saying someone was dead.

The United States joined World War II in 1941 when Japan attacked Pearl Harbor. On November 11th at 11:00 a.m. we observe a minute of silence in the honor of these soldiers. The money from the poppies we wear goes to ex-servicemen and their wives. Vimy Ridge was one of World War I's great victories. Cenotaphs are monuments that honor the dead and wreaths of poppies are placed on these all over the world.

Now there is a holiday on November 11th because World War I ended on a November 11th. And we use this day to remember all those soldiers who fought for the freedoms we have today.

NOVEMBER 11th Remembrance Day

In commemoration of Remembrance Day, we are proud to present three of last year's Royal Canadian Legion Poppy Contest winners from Elk Point schools.

Intermediate Essay

Eyes that have seen too much

By Leanne Wilson

Intermediate Essay - 2nd at District

Pictures. Black and white. Old memories caught forever. I slowly sort through them all. Some are of people swimming, some riding horses. Every picture seems to tell a story of its own.

As I look through them, I pick out my Grandma Shepherd, when she was much younger. I start looking through others, when one catches my attention. Suddenly it seems that I'm staring at my own eyes. But no, it's the eyes of a handsome, young soldier. Who is this picture of a boy who looks like a man?

"Leanne, what are you doing in this dusty old attic?" my Grandma Shepherd's voice asks from behind me.

I slowly turn around. Somehow I knew she was coming. "Grandma, who is this?" I ask holding up the picture. "His and my eyes look so much alike."

"He's my brother. That would make him your great-uncle," Grandma says with a catch in her voice.

"Well, how come I've never met him?"

My Grandmother's usually bright, lively eyes suddenly become dim. I know I have hit a tender spot.

"He died in World War II. He was only eighteen."

"Oh," is all I can say. Eighteen, what a young age to experience something like war.

"His name was Clifford," her look seems to wander far away, as if going back to a past lifetime. "He was quiet and shy. But he was always very honest and caring."

Senior Poem

Above the Fires

By Amanda Frisby

Second at District Competition

You can't fight it,
The pain you see.
You can't deny it,
The ways you hated me.
You can't let go,
Of the scars that take you back.
All I want to know
Is why you don't let it go.

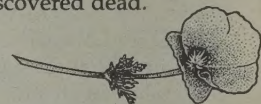

You wake up crying,
You scream out loud,
Thinking that your drowned out voice
Will quiet down the crowd.
The raving people among you pray,
That the darkness leaves and lets them remain,
Here below the bloodied dirt walls,
Captured until the Heaven calls,
To take you away.

Fearful as it seems,
You've caught a glimpse of the remains.
The ones who were forgotten,
Scattered on the plains.
But hey, you're only dreaming,
To shake yourself once more,
To wake and find what destiny
Lies for you in store.
Take me away too.

May it be the last chance I get,
To repeat the wars once more again.
To watch my friends all die in pain.
But what I ask is take me instead.
I'd rather be the one left dead.
I take it back for not believing.
The words inside were so deceiving.
I let you down,
I can't pretend,
The horror is no longer immune in my head,
Because now I've been discovered dead.

So find my grave,
Kneel and pray,
That no one shall ever take your soul,
And in pain you shall live no more.
And I'll soar,
Above you and let you win,
As I did with my blood of sin.
I'll let you win.

So you can die in peace my friend,
I'll take it to the bitter end.
That I will stand alone to fight,
And rescue you till all is right.
So in the sky I will soar,
And take away the pain once more.
To rescue you from the cries,
To love you once more when you die.
I'll see you there.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

Karina bids the Elk Point Library farewell

By Karina Mitchell
Librarian

This is it! My final article for the Elk Point Library. One of the things I never really got good at was writing these articles every week. I tend to babble, even in print. But I do like to think I became good at being Librarian. Not perfect by any means, but I was getting the hang of it.

At the risk of becoming too sentimental, I would like to say thank you to all the people who have helped out here at the Library over the years. There have been many who have stopped in from time to time, shelving, carding or working on other projects here as well as our wonderful Student Pages and Summer staff. Your time was very much appreciated as was your company. I would like to make special mention of Lena Stepa and Anna May Warren who have been dependable and hard working volunteers, indispensable in their commitment to this Library.

The Friends of the Library and the Library Board also need to be mentioned. Without either, we would literally have no Library. These are the people who work behind the scenes and make it all happen. I'm just the one everyone has to deal with when they come to the Library.

But only until November 10th. Then, the new face at the Library will be Daphne Schnurer. She really isn't new as she has been very involved in the community and will be familiar to most. She isn't even new to the Library, having both served on the Board and worked in temporary positions here in the past. I know she will find this position as challenging and as rewarding as I have. In my opinion, that is the definition of the perfect job - one I will miss.

One last time, I get to tell you about some of the new books at the Library...

For Young Adults:

Salvador is still going out with Anna, but he insists that it is Elizabeth that he cares for. So why won't he leave Anna? Cheating on Anna by Jamie Suzanne. Number 8 in the Sweet Valley Jr. High series.

Goaltending is hockey's toughest position. Make a mistake and everyone in the arena knows. Here are the players that amaze fans with impossible saves and incredible shutouts, game after game. Find out about today's stars, including Potvin, Belfour and Roy in Great Goalies by James Duplacey.

For Adults:

The Twisted Root is a William Monk story of love, betrayal and consummate evil. The latest Anne Perry novel set in Victorian England.

Hearts in Atlantis is Stephen King's newest fiction, composed of five interconnected, sequential narratives, set in the years from 1960 to 1999. Each story is deeply rooted in the sixties, and each is haunted by the Vietnam War.

Michael Ondaatje left Ceylon (now Sri Lanka) at the age of eleven. Running in the Family is the story of his return at 36, as well as the story of what he found there: the carefree, doomed life his parents and grandparents has led.

Videos:

The once-secret story of Nicholas II is told with newly discovered photographs and rare film footage long locked away in official archives in Russia's Last Tsar.

From flying dinosaurs to dancing cacti, Volume

1 of Animafest '95 has it all. It has the very best in new animation from the world renowned National Film Board of Canada animation studios. Also includes the Oscar winner, Bob's Birthday.

In Memoriam

HEINEMANN, Nancy

Mother, Grandma and Great-Grandma.

We can hardly believe that it has been a year since you passed away. To not have you here has been difficult, but knowing your suffering is over is comforting. We find that we miss you more and more as the days go by and you're not here to share them: the special occasions just are not the same without you. We hope you are watching over all your family and have a beautiful smile on your face. You will always be very missed but never forgotten.

Love Len, Bonnie, Karl, Alman, Danielle, Kyla, Cindy, Tracy, Dean, Jacob, David and Dan.

Thank You

BUKSA, Edward

I would like to express sincere thank you to my loving family, friends and neighbors who came to the funeral, visits at my house, brought food, sent flowers, cards, phoned & sent donations to different charities.

You all helped ease the pain during my very difficult time on the passing of my son.

To the ladies at Senior Centre, thank you for a very tasty lunch. Thank you Father Lipinski, you were very helpful.

Thank you John & Caroline Yewchin and staff for all the help you gave me.

Early mornings, late evenings: a hockey parent's life

By Doug Bassett
Review Sports

Do you remember the days when your kids were in Micro Novice? Those early Saturday mornings, pulling the kids out of bed at 6:00 or 6:30 a.m. Getting out of bed on a workday is one thing, but on a Saturday, that takes true dedication. The Micro Novice Tornadoes parents really are a dedicated bunch, so dedicated that not one player missed the game, and they had to be on the ice at 8:00 a.m. in Bonnyville. But most of the little Tornadoes were so excited to be playing in their first game of the season that it was easy. We're not sure of the score, because the stats man lost count, but the Tornadoes filled the net.

Now, at the other end of the spectrum, there's the Midgets, who always play games late at night. Friday night at the Thunderdome, the Midget Thunder played a rough game against Paradise Valley, coming out on top 7 to 3. It was an exciting, fast game that kept the huge crowd in their seats right until the very end. Down 3 to 1 at one point in the second, and the Thunder taking a steady trip to check out the new sin bin, playing most of the time down by two players, but it seemed to pump the boys up, and when they were able to hold the score within two, they got three quick ones very late in the second, taking the lead on a goal by Jon Yake.

In the dressing room before the third, coach Ron Croteau told the boys "whichever team scores the next goal will gain enough momentum to win the game," and he was right. The Thunder came out flying, scoring the first goal of the third at the 13:19 mark by Cam Lawrence then adding two more before the contest ended, one by Dallas Flamond and another by Kurt Bensmiller. The cowboy Kurt Bensmiller, who scored four goals in the game, is leading the team in points.

It takes a tank of gas to get to Lac La Biche and back but the Thunder tank hit E before they made it home on Sunday, losing 7 to 4. It's a good thing they didn't take the team plane. Lac La Biche is always a tough team to beat, especially at home, and it looks like this year they will be tough once more, but with three of their regular defence out of the lineup, the Thunder still put up a good battle.

One of the best ways to get into shape is to play with a short bench, but sometimes it can be too short. Just like the Thunder, the Midget Girls Storm were short-handed when they traveled to Vermilion on Sunday, but the Storm only had eight skaters, losing out 4 to 0. Then on Sunday it was a different story, with two lines and the help of two Pee wee girls, the Storm defeated Cold Lake 8 to 2. Good team work with lots of passing, goals by Tara Babenek, Jena Bassett, Melissa DeSilva, Brandi

Becker, Sheena Flamond with two, one by Pee wee Ashley Hebblethwaite and a beauty of a goal by Pee wee Bret Hahn on a breakaway, going upstairs to beat the goalie.

Meanwhile, the Pee wee Girls Cyclones look very strong this year, with some third year veterans in the lineup, defeating Irma 4 to 1 on Saturday. Goals by Eryl Anton Roberts, Megan Proskiwi, Bret Hahn and Ashley Hebblethwaite. Young Sarah Proskiwi did some fine forechecking, picking up an assist.

Right after the Pee wee girls on Saturday it was the Pee wee Boys Avalanche's turn to show their stuff, when they played a big team from Pierceland, winning 8 to 2. Team captain Jason Kalnynchuk with a hat trick, kamikaze Chris Mitchell with two and singles by David Ramful, Darcy Ockerman and Jesse Kozicky.

Lat year's Coach of the Year, Gary Marceniuk and his crew are doing a great job at practice teaching the boys and girls the skills of the game. One thing you can never do at this level is too much skills training, such as skating, passing, and shooting drills. Learning how to skate, stickhandle and pass must be learned at Novice hockey. The Novice Hurricanes are another of our small-in-number teams that has only 12 players but they work hard, and it pays off. On Friday night they defeated Dewberry 5 to 4. Two goals each for Ian Jurak and Kameron Ballas, a single by Chevy Botting. On Saturday they defeated Two Hills 9 to 0. A hat trick by Chevy Botting, a couple each for Jordan Krankowski and Josh Weir and singles by Ian Jurak and Kameron Ballas.

Elks start season

First home game Friday

Elk Point Elks senior hockey club started their season this weekend, traveling to Marwayne Friday night where they lost 3-2 despite excellent goaltending by newcomer Dale Fleming, who kept them in the game. Scoring for the Elks, Ted Generoux and Willie Lesyk.

Sunday saw another loss, this time 4-1 to Kitscoty, with two of the host team's goals in the last 11 minutes. Kitscoty's power plays accounted for most of their goals. Scoring for the Elks was Mike Boratynec.

Danny Flett, who played with the Elks last year, has now signed for this season and will be a welcome addition to the team.

The first Elks home game will be on Friday at 8 p.m. against Vermilion. Make sure to take this one in and cheer on the Elks as they take on the league's newest team.

Watch next week's issue for the Elks 1999-2000 season schedule.
